Lifestyle, Radiation and electricity 5g/6g, Allopathic medicine, Pollution, Hormones, Transgenerational patterns, Vaccinations.

How to treat the complicated cases? –

STRATEGIES FOR TREATING COMPLICATED CASES –

- Layer by Layer treatment.
- Study acute symptoms of the case (acute as opportunity)
- Burnett's approach – ladder of remedies
- Lesser known and rare remedies. Rare disease may need rare remedy.
- Consider tautopathic remedies for abused cases (for eg cortisone 30)
- Study the case again- individualise - bit that does not fit
- Study deeper miasmatic patterns
- Study past history, family history, addictions, abuses
- If any remedy has helped in past, consider complementary remedy (Boenninghausen) or another remedy from the same family/ group.
- Imponderabilia, lesser used bowel nosodes, sarcodes, nosodes, fungi, etc

- Detachment – spaced out
- Unpredictable
- Sudden mood changes.

Vernix Caseosa –

Vernix caseosa is the cheesy, waxy, greasy layer that is formed during weeks seventeen to twenty of gestation, then commonly disappears before birth. sometimes, however, the newborn is covered with it.

The main pattern is a feeling of being abused/ poisoned/ oversensitivity/ attacked and a need to feel protected/ secure. They want to be taken care of, like a baby.

Clinical use of sarcodes in today's times is done when we see –

- Lack of reaction, need to stimulate a particular organ/ enzyme/ area/ sphere/ hormone.
- Alternation of state of mind and/or state of physical being.
- Either a lack/ exaggeration of function of particular organ/ system.
- It is often used as an intercurrent and often needs a deeper remedy after its prescription.
- Have a role in difficult cases especially metabolic, hormonal disorders, the key thing is to use it with indications, when well selected remedy fails.
- Restlessness, overactivity, constant feeling of state of overactivity
- Tautopathy – h/o insulin injections, steroidal allopathic medicine.
